"The wishelest man in New York" (they say) has been converied. Then there is still hope for Benjamin F. Buller, Li.D., D.—D. Please, somebody, preach to him from Jeremiah ili, 19: "And the baseons and the fire-pans, and the challes-ticks, and the sandous and the snooss, and the candidous, and the canden that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of salver, in silver, the Captain of the Guard took away."

[New York Democral.

On the praries they have abandoned the spade and nost suger in setting fence posts, and adopted the pile wharves. The machine costs about twenty-five dollars, and two men and a team will drive three-fourths of a mile posts per day. The posts are sharped and are usually sent to the proper depths by two blows of the wooden driver or monkey.

In some of the fushionable churches in London, programmes of the music are printed and distributed in the paws:

music are the pews.
