THE REVIVAL.

Rev. Harrison's Sermon Last Night at the Methodist Church.

A VERY ELOQUENT APPEAL.

A Large Number of Converts—The Interest Increasing.

Last night Rev. Harrison preached to a very large audience from Revelations 22:17, as follows: "And the spirit and the bride say come; and let him that heareth say come; and let him that is athirst come; and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." He said: "Multitudes in this city are laying foundations in regard to the never-ending world. Some lay a foundation of unbelief. They build on that; some lay a foundation of denial, and they build on that; and some lay a foundation of resisting Christ, and they build on that. Resist, resist. I build on that. On no other foundation, saith the apostle can any man build than that which was laid. The foundation was laid in Christ's sacrifice; it was built in His love it was completed in His mercy, and to-night, have you got the foot of your soul on that foundation of my text? If you have, you will be secure living, you will have firm footing dying and you will have safety in eternity. My text this evening is Revelations, the 22d chapter and the 17th verse, is a text that has the foundation for the foot of your soul to get on. I recollect some years ago holding a meeting in yonder city, and a young man tried to get on the foundation of my text. My text is the freeness, the fullness, the completeness of the love of God to save you. Whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely. Thank God for God-given, that divine, that sympathetic invitation. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. Reach out your hand to-night towards God's hand of forgiveness and clasp it. Turn up your lips of confession this evening, and let Jesus give you the kiss of a friend, and "whosoever"—there is that word "will" there "Ephraim," God says, "how can I give thee up?" But Ephraim says, "I won't. I will not." "Here is the freeness of salvation, here is the blessedness of religion if you will take it, Ephraim." Ephraim says, "I will not." God says, "How can I give you up; how can I let you die and be lost? How can I give you up?" And then, afterwards, God says, "He is joined to his idols let him alone." But when you come and say, "I will; I will give my heart to God; I will come to Jesus, I will take the offered mercy," God says, "Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." Oh, would to God that every one to-night might come unto the "Whosoever" and say, "I will." God grant they may. Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

In my text there is a saying, it is a true saying and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save. You cannot trust the sayings of these men who are great in letters. You cannot trust the sayings of Carlyle. He is no sooner buried in his grave than men begin to make light of his utterances. You cannot trust the soyings even of Emerson. He is hardly laid in the sepulchre on those New England hills till men say, "Ha, ha, that don't stand the light, That philosopher was deceived. You can't rest on his sayings." But here is a true saying. "Whosoever will." Millions have tried it; millions have tested it, they have lived in the light, they have died in the illumination, and they have gone in the blaze of God's smile to heaven. "Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." Oh for a taking of the water of eternal life to-night here by every soul! It is a true saying. You cannot trust Carlyle; you cannot rely upon Emerson. You can't rely upon any of these men that throw out their utterances, because, before a year goes by, men say they are wrong. Carlyle was a dyspeptic man, and not happy in his home, and you can't trust him. They say Emerson was a man who stood outside of the church, and didn't trust God fully, and you can't trust him, for he died in the coldness and the frosts of his unbelief; but Paul says, "It is a true saying and worthy of all acceptation that Christ Jesus came into the world to save." Oh, that He might give you redeeming love to-night, that He might save you this hour, that He might bring you home this evening. God grant He may, for my text is a foundation text; it is a text that has a true saying in it. "Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. God help us; God help us.

If you come and seek Jesus to-night. If you come and give your heart to God this evening, and I come down to you and you are weeping, and I bring you that verse of that old hymn that was written away back when theology was as dark as midnight, and I come and say, "Perhaps He will admit my plea." You look up through your blinding tears and say, "Have you got nothing but guess so for me?" I come down for your heartaches, you are struggling for light, you are trying to find the Son of God as millions have done, and I say, "Perhaps He will hear your prayer," and you say, "Oh, have you got nothing but may be for me? Is it possible I have got to grope in darkness, and you are going to make the dark blackness?" "Perhaps, perhaps." Nay, my dear, dying fellow traveler to the judgment bar, I would not give you that verse of poetry. It is as false as unbelief, and as wrong as sin. No, I have come down to whosoever. "Whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely." Oh, glory be to God! Our fathers have tried and trusted and lived in it in this world, and are now enjoying it in eternity. Whosoever will, I can will to be damned, I can will for heaven, I can will to receive Jesus, I can will to keep Him out, I can will to repent, or I can will not to repent, I can will to turn around toward Him, or I can will to keep my back, as it were, toward Him. I have my own will. He says that He is able to save to the uttermost all that come; but if I don't come? He says, "Him that cometh I will in no wise cast out;" but you must come. Whosoever will, let him take the water of life.

From Salina.

To the Editor of the Daily Capital.

A game of base ball between the institute boys and college boys last Monday resulted in a victory for the latter. This afternoon another game is to be played between the same parties.

The institute is the largest ever held in this county, excepting one. The music class, under the direction of Mr. Williamson, the conductor, uses the climax, and is drilling in reading and singing plain music. There are seventy-six numbers in it.

Mr. Rollman is giving valuable instruction in penmanship and map drawing. He is very quick in manner, but an educator of excellent ability, and keeps his classes interested. A class in drawing will be organized next Monday, under the direction of Miss Deighan. This is a very useful branch and will, no doubt, soon receive a place beside grammar and arithmetic in our schools.

Mr. Armstrong is a very enthusiastic instructor, and some interesting occasions may be witnessed in his constitution and history classes.

The conductor dissected a large heart with the attached veins and arteries, yesterday, before his physiology class, showing the pericardium, difference between veins and arteries, the four sets of valves, linings and comparative thickness of the walls. This is the true mode of studying this subject and is fast coming into common usage.

In the school economy class a model programme was placed upon the board. It contained not only a time for the recitation, but for the study of every branch. It was urged that every school should regulate the pupil's whole time and not leave him to study at odd times. Only so much time is to be given to the preparation of a lesson, instead of saying study till you get it. All small pupils were not to be allowed to carry books home to study. The larger pupils are to be requested to prepare just one lesson at a time.

AMUSEMENTS.

DRAMATIC POINTS.

J. B. Polk's company next season will contain four well known comedians besides the star.

Osmond Tearle's new drama, in which he stars next season, has been definitely named "Tempest Tossed."

It is said that while Belasco was writing May Blosom he had Ben Maginley in his head as the ideal Uncle Bartlett.

The machinery and mechanical effects for De Mille's play, "The Main Line," will be painted by Philip Goatcher.

Frank Mayo opens his next season at the Grand opera house, Chicago, in "Nordeck" and "The Three Guardsmen."

Henry Hallam, tenor, and Henry Peakes, basso, will be with the Alfa Norman English Opera company next season.

Louis James and Marie Wainright are at their summer house in Nahant deep in the mysteries of costumes, Roman togas and the like.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Palmer, accompanied by Mrs. Croly (Jennie June), will leave about the 30th inst. for a tour of the Yellowstone Park.

Mr. W. H. Vernon, a London actor, famous for his performance in the play "Mamon," will star jointly with Genevieve Ward next season.

Roland Reed was recently invited by a western capitalist for a drive to see the bluffs. "Excuse me," said Reed, "no more bluffs. I saw one last night—there were three kings behind it.

STATE HOUSE.

Items of Interest from the Capitol Building.

The democratic sheriff of Leavenworth county proposes to take all that he can get hold of. Yesterday he presented a bill to the state for mileage for taking three prisoners from the jail in the city of Leavenworth to the penitentiary a short distance out of the city. He presented a bill for $2.75, but under the law he was entitled to only $2.25, and the auditor felt obliged to cut it down to that amount.

The board of railroad assessors were in session yesterday and assessed some railroad property in Cowley county, which the county had failed to return.

NORTH TOPEKA.

Smoke "State Seal," the best 5 cent cigar on the market.

The infant child of Mr. Hughes is reported to be quite sick.

Officer Ward, who is now at Excelsior Springs, Mo., recuperating his health, is considerably improved. He will return about July 15.

Officer Curran yesterday arrested an insane man named Snodgrass, who escaped from the insane asylum. He was returned to the asylum by the officers of the institution.

Col. Stanton has been making improvements in the Union Pacific park. Walks are being laid off and tiling placed between the walks and the grass.

B. F. Rawson, who has been quite sick lately, met with another relapse yesterday. He had improved and thought he was strong enough to be out on the streets, but it seems that the effort was too much for him.

On to-morrow (Thursday) evening there will be given an entertainment at Lukin's opera house by the members of St. Mark's A. M. E. church. Rev. J. E. Weir will deliver an address on Africa and exhibit a variety of specimens and products of that country. Prof. Ruth and lady will furnish music for the occasion.

W. J. Bonsell, a prominent farmer from Jackson county, who lives in the vicinity of Cope, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Bonsell was on last Saturday elected a delegate to the state convention. He said in conversation with a CAPITAL reporter, that the people of that vicinity were highly elated over the result of the late bond election in Jackson county, to vote aid to the Rock Island road. Many farmers in his vicinity have marked their farms up $5 an acre higher, in view of the prospects of the road.

The body of Walter Toles, who was drowned Sunday while bathing four miles up the river, was found yesterday forenoon about 10 o'clock. Men had been engaged in hunting for the body since Sunday afternoon, and had searched carefully all the way from the scene of the drowning to a point about one and a half miles this side of Menoken. Just as they got to this point the body of the unfortunate young man washed up on a sand bar. The deceased was a young man about eighteen years old, and a nephew of Albert Miller who lives seven miles southeast of town. The body was taken to Mr. Miller's, and will be buried in the cemetery in that vicinity.

Stock Water in Pastures.

The providing of sufficient good water for stock in summer is often overlooked by the busy farmer, and yet the loss in growth of stock and sometimes, even, in the death of some favorite animal from the lack of good water would seem to be a sufficient warning to the slack farmer to provide his stock with a larger quantity and better quality of water. The water is often rendered very foul by the drippings of the cattle. Mud washes into it after every rain, and the feet of animals mingle dirt with it every time they come to drink. Plants grow, die, and decay in it. Reptiles and small animals not infrequently die in the bodies of water that are daily visited by cattle, horses and sheep, for the purpose of quenching their thirst. The farmer is busy with his crops and does not examine the condition of the water till some of the animals in the pasture become sick, and then the farmer begins to realize the need of more care in this direction. Give your stock plenty of pure water.

Pronouncing Against Frauds.

At the late meeting of the Washington County Horticultural society the following most sensible resolution was unanimously and enthusiastically passed:

Resolved, That all agents and other parties canvassing for orders and representing foreign fruits as something superior to tested home varieties of trees, and selling the foreign at high rates, are frauds and an imposition on the people of the state, and we, as members of this society, warn them not to buy of such tree peddlers.

Examine carefully the wording of this resolution: "representing foreign fruits as something superior to tested home varieties." The point was not made against tree peddlers from localities outside of the state who come here and sell varieties that have been tested here and known to be good, provided the quality of the trees were as good as our homegrown trees, and provided also that they were sold at the same price. The action of this society is to be commended.

Huckleberry Culture.

The huckleberry crop of this county is reported to be "immense" in some localities, and a large quantity of this fruit has already been gathered.

We find the above in the Florence (Marion county) Herald. We have often thought that if this fruit could be introduced into this state and its culture proved successfully, that it would be a great acquisition to our large list of fruits. We hope the above statement, that the crop of huckleberries (whortleberries) in Marion county is "immense" and that its culture will extend all over the state. We would be glad to hear reports direct from the growers of this most excellent fruit. We must admit, however, that we are yet in doubts about the successfully growing of this fruit in Kansas.

Corn for fodder can still be sown during the month. That sown in drills will give the best satisfaction. A few tons of nice fodder seldom come amiss and the cost of this fodder compared with hay is very small. In the first place an enormous crop can be grown on an acre, as high as five or six tons when cured. It should be sown very thickly that the stalks may not attain a large size. Coarse fodder is not so succulent and tender as fine fodder. Another reason why corn fodder should be thickly sown, is that it can be more economically handled at harvest time. It is not generally understood that corn fodder can best be reaped and bound. It is an almost invariable practice among farmers to mow corn fodder. Now it cannot be handled in this way without great loss of both fodder and labor. It makes a very thick coat over the ground when mown, so thick that it cannot be dried out even with plenty of stirring before it is bleached by the sun and dews and perhaps injured by storms. Such fodder growth must be shocked or stacked up. It must stand on end. To give it the upright position it must first be bound in small bundles. These should be stood with the bottoms well apart in the stack.

The American Association of Nurserymen, Florists and Seedsmen, held its eleventh annual convention last week at Washington, with about 300 delegates in attendance, representing every state in the union, and selected officers as follows: President C. L. Watrous, Iowa; first vice president, M. A. Hunt, Illinois; secretary, D. Wimot Scott, Illinois; treasurer, A. R. Whitney, Illinois; executive committee, S. D. Williard, New York, U. B. Pearsall, Kansas, and George Weltz, Ohio. A resolution was adopted urging the passage of the oleomargarine bill pending before congress.

Sales of blooded cattle have been made very low this season, a good pedigreed three year old animal of the fancy strains of Shorthorn, Jersey, Devon etc., can now be purchaeed in Kansas for from $100 to $150. It used to be said that it took some nerve to buy shorthorns. But times have changed, and now it is the seller who requires the nerve to meet the low prices he sees his favorites go for. However, the greatest good to the number.

It is often the case on a farm that some of the hens will want to set during the hot summer months. If the nests are built up from the ground only a small proportion of the eggs at this time of the year will hatch, but if the nests are on the ground and in the shade nearly all will hatch. Especially will this be the case when the hens "steal their nests," for they will, in nearly every case, select the ground for their nest.

The remedy for chicken cholera recommended by the department of agriculture is as follows: Add three pounds of sulphuric acid to forty gallons of water, and mix evenly by agitating and stirring. Apply to poultry houses with a large watering pot till every spot is saturated. Repeat application until the infection is completely destroyed.

Hercules Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Gentlemen:—Having had your medicine in my house for the past six months, and having thoroughly tested its qualities as a cure for rheumatism and neuralgia, I have no hesitancy in recommending it as the best I have ever seen. For many years I have been a sufferer from neuralgia, and never before could I find anything to give me permanent relief from pain until I obtained a bottle of Hercules Deadener. Not a few of the guests of my house can also certify to its curative powers, for I have used it with great success in curing them of rheumatism and neuralgia.

Yours truly,

The following letter from a well known western lady explains itself and is worthy of careful reading:

"I wish to say to the sick and those that are feeble and weak from any cause whatever, that in all the vocabulary of medicines they will find the most virtue and greatest benefit from Parker's Tonic. I have been an invalid for five or six years past, and given up to die by the most skillful physicians of Kansas and Colorado, but Parker's Tonic has kept me alive, and raised me up after everything else failed. I have organic heart disease, combined with spinal and great nervous debility, and have cold sinking spells with no pulse, and the only medicine that will bring on a reaction is Parker's Tonic. I have never known it to fail in curing a cold if taken in time, and it will relieve pain quicker than any remedy I have ever tried. I send you this because I would like for others to know how much good it has done me. It is just as good for children. Try it and be convinced."—MRS. D. SHULTZ, Louisville, Kansas. P. O. Box 92.

An Important Function Stimulated.

The kidneys exercise most important functions, which are so wearisome that they tax to the utmost the strength and endurance of these busy little organs. Every breath, every pulsation of the heart, every movement of a limb, every thought, makes waste and necessitates the development of new atoms. The used up particles in the blood are sifted from it and dissolved in a watery fluid by the kidneys, which then discharge this fluid into the bladder. A train of disasters to the system would follow if these "ashes," so to speak, were not thoroughly strained off and discharged. This is the case when the kidneys become inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by restoring their activity, not only keeps open a most important outlet for impurities, but prevents diseases of the kidneys themselves, which when inert become liable to fall a prey to diabetes, Bright's disease, memphitis, albumenuria, and other maladies specially incidental to them, which, although not specially rapid in their progression, are particularly obstinate and fatal.

When Solicited to Insure in Other Companies

REMEMBER THAT

The Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York,

is entitled to your FIRST consideration, since it holds the FOREMOST place among the Life Insurance institutions of the world, and offers superior advantages in all the features of business together with unequalled financial security.

1.—It is the oldest life insurance company in this country.
2.—It is the largest life insurance company in the world, its policies now in force numbering more than 129,600.
3.—It is the strongest financial institution in the world, its assets amounting to more than $108,908,967.
4.—It is the safest company in which to insure.
5.—It is the cheapest company in which to insure, its large dividend return reducing the cost of insurance below that of any other company.
6.—It is the best company in which to insure, as it combines all the advantages of age, large and select membership, financial strength, absolute security, and the cheapest insurance that is honestly possible under any contract which has a definite value to the beneficiary.
7.—It has no stockholders to claim any part of the profits. The assets and surplus all belong to the insured.
8.—Its ratio of expenses to receipts is less than that of any other company.
9.—Its dividends to policy holders are greater than those of any other company.
10.—The cost to the insured is therefore less than any other company.
11.—Its new policy is the most liberal ever offered by any insurance company.
12.—Its places no restrictions upon travel, occupation or residence after being two years in force.
13.—Being Non-Forfeitable, and practically incontestable, it provides a legacy and not a lawsuit.
14.—It is the simplest and most comprehensive form of insurance contract ever issued. If the policy holder pays his premiums, while he lives, the company will pay the full value of his policy when he dies.
15.—All claims are paid immediately upon acceptance of proof of death.
16.—The five year distribution plan of this company presents a most attractive investment feature. It not only accumulates the surplus arising from the premiums over the cost of the insurance on each policy in force during the five year period, but increases it by compound interest.

Manifest Advantages.

At the end of each five year period, the owner of a "five year distribution" policy can surrender policy and dividends for cash; or, surrender policy for a paid-up policy, and draw dividends in cash; or, surrender policy and dividends for a paid-up policy; or, continue policy (at original rate) and draw dividends in cash; or, continue policy (at original rate) and let dividends increase policy.

A paid-up policy is guaranteed at any time after the third annual premium is paid.

Mrs. General Augustus Wilson, of Parsons, Kan., who was appointed by the state of Kansas, lady commissioner to the World's Fair at New Orleans, in answer to the inquiry of a reporter, said: "I can not speak too highly of Dr. TURNER'S TREATMENT. My sufferings nearly distracted me. My stomach was deranged and my nervous system was completely broken. I suffered from partial paralysis, rheumatism and neuralgia. Added to the above symptoms were loss of memory, voice, appetite and lack of nerve force. My family physician did me no good; and by the advice of a friend I bought Dr. Turner's Treatment. Two packages completely cured me. I think the treatment is wonderful in its effects, and recommend it in all cases of general or nervous debility, and diseased condition of the stomach, kidneys, liver and blood."
