

GENERAL MENTION.

Miss Effie Ellsler is filling a profitable engagement at the Theatre Comique, in Harlem, in "Woman Against Woman."

Mme. Julie A. De Ruyther has been engaged to sing at the Sunday night concerts to be given in Music Hall in Boston in November.

Mr. Philip Goatcher is painting new scenery for "Hamlet," to be used during Mr. Booth's forthcoming engagement at the Star Theatre.

Mr. Benjamin Maginley, so long identified with the character of Tom Blossom in "May Blossom," will be seen at the Windsor next week as Uncle Bartlett in the same play.

Mme. Helene Maigille's concert occurs at Chickering Hall this evening. Mme. Maigille will have the assistance of Miss Emily Winant, Mr. Lambert, Mr. Hasselbrink, and other well known performers.

Mrs. Bowers will appear in three characters at the Fourteenth-Street Theatre on Saturday. At the matinée "Camille" will be the play, and in the evening "Lucrezia Borgia" and "The Jealous Wife" will be given.

Mrs. Langtry's elaborate and tasteful production of "The Lady of Lyons," at the Fifth-Avenue Theatre, has excited much admiration, and each performance of Bulwer's play thus far given has been witnessed by a full house.

"After Business Hours" is drawing excellent houses at Daly's, and the matinée yesterday attracted a full audience, principally composed of ladies. Mr. Daly's Wednesday matinées are a leading feature of his season, and while no other house of the same leading character has been able to make Wednesday afternoon performances pay, this theatre averages as large receipts for the Wednesday as for the Saturday matinées. Mr. Daly is fast transforming the lobby of his theatre into an art gallery for the delight of his patrons. During his recent trip in Europe he picked up a number of rare old pictures, originals and copies, which he is preparing
