A SHERMAN SPEECH

Has Created a Wide Spread Discussion.

It will be remembered that some time since the Knights of Labor of Sherman were addressed in Labor Hall, Montgomery street, by District Master Workman Farmer, of this state, who, in the course of that part of his address bearing upon the anarchist, said:

"The Knights of Labor of Texas and the district of which I am an officer, want Honesty, Sobriety and Right, not riot, bloodshed and dynamite."

This speech, or at least this extract, has found its way into all the leading journals of the land.

The Knights of Labor are holding their annual national assembly, and the proceedings will be watched with much interest. A resolution of sympathy for the condemned anarchists will undoubtedly be introduced, and it is believed, will produce no small amount of discord.

Farmer will be heard from in behalf of Texas, and his constituency is to judge motives are keeping a sharp lookout for what he has to say on the subject. He pleased his people in opposition to anarchy in Sherman. What he will say for them at Minneapolis is now the query.

There are now forty-five inmates in the Grayson county jail, and the Gazette says that this number will be increased when the next grand jury convenes, that is if they go out of Sherman to look up cases.

The Santa Fe track layers are now within nine miles of Weatherford, and expect to reach that town by Saturday and open the road for business by October 25.

BUSINESS CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

A Most Remarkable Offer From Doris & Colvin's Circus.

The undersigned business men, who are well known to you, beg your attention to the following facts, which we endeavor to state plainly and in a business like way, free from all boasting and exaggeration, and in a manner becoming our standing, commercially and socially.

We are the sole proprietors, managers and owners of Doris & Colvin's Nine Great Shows combined. We have invested in this mammoth amusement enterprise over a million dollars. We are here in Texas for the purpose of exhibiting the same on the biggest, best, most original in conception and famous in features, and wealth of general attractions ever exhibited in Texas. Four years ago we visited you, and then exhibited among other grand features (the greatest of the day) the only two-headed girl ever born on earth. We exhibited also the best and largest circus and menagerie known up to that time. The show business like all the businesses of this country grows largely. We have kept up with the times. We are now twenty times greater and bigger than then. As your towns have grown so have our shows, we are all in the race. It is our object, and we hereby announce it to advertise no feature which we will not exhibit; on this we pledge our professional reputation and our commercial honor. We make this announcement in the public press over our signatures as Business Men right now on our street in the show, and we will herein name for you such features as we alone exhibit, albeit others claim to have them. We could not insult your intelligence by advertising what we have not got; we advertise our exhibits as you do your wares; we are merchants of exhibits, you of dry goods; you buy your goods in part with, we lease ours to show; we are bound by the same laws of honor and commerce which bind your transactions. Your bankers do business with us and know us as such, therefore when we pledge ourselves to the following exhibits and tell why others cannot have them, we state it to you, we expect, as a business proposition. We have the only trio of champion wing shots in America. Their names are a sufficient guarantee of their greatness: Capt. A. H. Bogardus, his son Eugene and Capt. F. E. Stubbs. We have the only eight-horsed and eight-legged horse on earth, each of them shod with eight iron shoes—the only Bronco freak comparable with our old friend the two-headed girl, and the greatest wonder of the two.

We have the only Leon, riding and driving 21 horses at one time around the quarter of a mile track. An act never before seen in Texas.

We exhibit the only real Custer Battle, representing the great massacre of Little Big Horn, with real Indians, scouts and cavalrymen.

We exhibit those people, those acts and those acts, just as we say we do, or we will refund your admission fee cost for cost.

We have the only big triple circus, exhibiting 65 acts, every actor an artist and every act a gem superb.

We have the only real Roman (classic and modern) Hippodrome ever coming, giving fifteen different races at each performance.

Our menagerie is large, fine and composed of more rare beasts than has ever been seen in Texas until now.

We have a double Wild West, made up of men famous in history, and whose fame is the talk. There is positively no Wild West or exhibition in the show line. We have and will give every morning through your streets, the finest, grandest, largest, most unique street parade ever given. It is free! See it for yourselves! It is the prelude to our book. Judge of our show by it. It reflects our wealth of numbers. It is massive wealth. Judge us by it.

Our show now in Texas claims to have many of these features. We have deposited ten thousand dollars for it if it has. It never had a chance to get money so easily before. Now we will surrender that offer with pleasure. It is this: If the other show has any of the following named features which it loudly and glaringly advertises, Doris & Colvin will give any charitable institution in the state of Texas an additional $10,000.

A list of some of the things the other show advertises and does not exhibit, and for any one of which Doris & Colvin will give ten thousand dollars, as above stated. Read the list, look at their bills and see that we are right.

Broad award concludes—There is neither awards nor swordsmen with the other show.

Snake charmers—There is neither a charmer nor a snake with the show.

Cages of Indian trophies—The few cages they have are for inferior animals.

Texas steers—A wrong steer, they have nothing of the kind.

Trained horses—Not one with the show; we have the only trained horses in Texas.

Horses jumping fire hoops—We have the only horses in America who do this act.

Mexican Vaqueros—They have never the nearest approach to them are Texas Rackins.

The aerial soldier of Monroe—A new name for an old act. Its performer is in Europe. The show referred to which advertises the act has none.

Couch shot—not a shot—Doris & Colvin have the only living kin of champions Capt. Bogardus, Capt Stubbs and Eugene Bogardus.

In a word, this show is good on pictured posters, but does not exhibit what is so glaringly advertises. This show should not sell the public.

Do not be deceived, wait for the big show until Thursday, Oct. 20.

Then and not until then will you see the biggest and best.

We could, like Tennyson's brook, go "on an on forever" like this, and enumerate so much which the other show advertises and does not exhibit S would become nauseating we will stop here and remind the reader once again that that this statement is a business one, very plain, above in fact of all embellishment explain and straightforward that he who reads may read, and we leave the public to judge for themselves.

Doris & Colvin,
Proprietors Doris & Colvin's Show.

Sherman Steam Laundry!

Will open Monday October 10th with a complete new outfit and in the nicest building in the city devoted to the laundry business.

The citizens of Sherman now has an opportunity to transfer their patronage from the Chinese, who have imposed on them in the past with high prices and poor work.

Our work will be in keeping with our surroundings. We shall take a running start and, in one bound, place the "SHERMAN" at the head of all laundries in Texas, as far as the quality of work is concerned.
